

United States District Court
of

South Dakota

Duncan G. Standing Rock / CIV 08-4079

Plaintiff

v.

RD&J Partnership D/B/A McDonald's Defendants.

FILED

JUN 11 2008

Comes now Plaintiff Duncan Standing Rock, herein
after referred to as Plaintiff.

ISSUES & facts

Plaintiff went to McDonald's for a walk-in interview, seeking employment
on October 4, 2004.

At the interview Plaintiff was told that he did very well and that he would be contacted in a few days
to begin employment.

Plaintiff did not get a call from interviewer, Sonja Ohlrugge, concerning employment. Plaintiff called her approximately 7 days later and was told she hired two other people
after she interviewed plaintiff.

See exhibit A.

Plaintiff believed he was discriminated against and filed a complaint with the Human Relations Commission on October 31, 2006. See exhibit B. Sioux Falls Human Relations Commission determined no probable cause in the above entitled case on November 18, 2007. See exhibit C. Also see exhibit D for R.D & J Partnership DBIA McDonald's response to plaintiff's complaint.

Plaintiff filed a rebuttal statement on November 15, 2006 to RDJJ Partnership DBIA McDonald's to deny the allegations of discrimination. See exhibit E.

The final response was received from the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Chicago District Office on March 12, 2008. See exhibit F.

Conclusion

Plaintiff applied at McDonald's and was hired. Upon not being hired as promised. A complaint of discrimination was filed. Furthermore defendants in this case slandered plaintiff in their defense response, to cover up the fact that the management of McDonald's discriminated.
